

Hope She Is Listening

Written and Composed By: Anthony Holloway

Verse

There's a coffee cup still by the sink
Lipstick stain on the side of the drink
Her side of the bed's cold as stone
I'm sick of being here all alone

Pre-Chorus

I've sent a thousand texts she won't read
Now I'm down to one last desperate plea

Chorus

I'm callin' up that late-night request line
The DJ says he's got a little time
He asks me for a song to help the pain
I give him one that brings her back again
If it finds her somewhere I ain't welcome in
Man, I hope she's listenin'

Verse

I drove by her mama's around ten
Thinkin' I might see her again
Sat in the dark at the end of the street
Tryin' to tell my heart to accept defeat

Pre-Chorus

Every road just drags me back again
One more call on that FM band

Chorus

I'm callin' up that late-night request line
The DJ says he's got a little time
He asks for her name so he can say it clear
I say it low like she might still hear
If it cuts through the mess we're livin' in
Man, I hope she's listenin'

Bridge

Maybe she's drivin' with the windows down
Tryin' to outrun this broken town
But that signal runs for miles and miles
And I'm hangin' on for one more smile

Chorus

I'm callin' up that late-night request line
The DJ says he's got a little time
I hear the first chord of our old song
Prayin' it hits her before it's gone
If it finds her somewhere I ain't welcome in
Man, I hope she's listenin'

Outro

Yeah, I hope she's listening.
