

Not Everyone Comes Back

Written and Composed By: Anthony Holloway

Verse

Porch light burning, quarter past two
You said you're coming, like you always do
Dinner went cold while I watched the door
Headlights passed, but they weren't yours

Pre-Chorus

So I turned off the light, let the silence fall
Locked that door, didn't wait for your call

Chorus

You don't get to miss me now
Don't say my name like you didn't let me down
If me walking out is what woke you up
That says enough about your love
When you treat a heart like that
Not everyone comes back

Verse

Now you're calling like you just found faith
Saying you're different, saying you've changed
But I don't break when I hear your name
I finally learned I deserve better than that game

Pre-Chorus

You only see the flame when it starts to dim
But I'm not turning that porch light on again

Chorus

You don't get to miss me now
Don't dress regret up like you figured it out
You miss the girl who would let it slide
But she ain't the one alone tonight
When you treat a heart like that
Not everyone comes back

Bridge

I didn't leave 'cause I stopped loving you
I left 'cause I got tired of being alone
There's a line between holding on
And holding onto something already gone

Chorus

You don't get to miss me now
I gave you all of me, you just let it run out
If it took my leaving to see what you had
That's on you, and it's too bad
When you treat a heart like that
Not everyone comes back

Outro

Porch light's dark, and it's staying like that
Not everyone comes back
