

Shut Down This Bar

Written and Composed By: Anthony Holloway

Verse

Stopped at the store for a six-pack of beer,
Told myself I'd quit thinking 'bout last year.
Sat in the diner where your smile used to shine
Saw your sister, asked if I still cross your mind

Pre-Chorus

This town ain't big but it's tearing me apart,
Every place I turn cuts into my heart.

Chorus

In every laugh and every song,
This town won't let me move along.
In every store and corner booth,
Your memory won't hide the truth.
Everywhere I go, you are,
So I'll just stay here AND shut down this bar.

Verse

The jukebox played our old song,
And damned if I didn't sing along.
Bartender asked if I'm doin' alright,
I said, "One more, then maybe call it a night."

Pre-Chorus

I'm stuck right here but my head won't stop,
This town replays you on every block.

Chorus

Past every fence down every lane,
You're locked inside my every pain.
In all the windows, I see your face,
This town won't grant me any space.
Everywhere I go, you are,
So I'll just stay here AND shut down this bar.

Bridge

Dreaming of finally being free,
But damn, I still need you with me.
This heartbreak's carved me to the bone,
Guess I'm just too far gone.

Chorus

No road out, no chance to flee,
This town beats every fight in me.
You're winning every single round,
Guess I'll drink 'til I'm six feet down.
Everywhere I go, you are,
So I'll just stay here AND shut down this bar.

Outro

(Yeah)... everywhere I go, you are.
Gonna stay right here AND shut down this bar.
