

Still Just Jessie

Written and Composed By: Anthony Holloway

Verse

I saw auburn hair through the window glass
Twenty years came back real fast
She was at the counter at the Sunset Grill
And for a second, time stood still

Pre-Chorus

Then those green eyes stopped me in my tracks
Like she never left at all, like she'd always come back

Chorus

She still walks through the halls of my mind
Never gave me one clean reason why
I thought the years might finally ease the ache
But I'm still the fool she can bend and break
Yeah, the world keeps turnin', it's always messy
She still makes me a little crazy
She's still just Jessie

Verse

She slid in smooth like she owned the place
That same perfume filled up the space
It cut right through after all these years
And I'm still burnin' after all these tears

Pre-Chorus

She smiled like nothin' ever went wrong
And I was right back where I don't belong

Bridge

I caught myself lookin' at her left hand
Thinkin' maybe I'd understand
But she grabbed her keys and headed for the door
Left me there like a thousand times before

Chorus

She still feels like a song I can't help but sing
Even knowin' what the ending brings
Yeah, the world keeps turnin', it's always messy
She's still just Jessie

Outro

Still just Jessie
